Soldiers Making Good

Soldier settlers in the western provinces are making good and are optimistic as to the future, according to L. S. The majority of Saskatchewan and Alberta soldier settlers have already made this year's payments on their land and a large number have paid up arrears which in many cases were not expected this year.

"Business has been good, not only on the ocean routes but also on the Great Lakes" Capt. Todford stated, "our smaller vessels having been employed everywhere to good purpose. The service to Australia and New Zealand has shown particularly good results."

J. Proctor Has Narrow Escape Of Drowning At Lake Near Zumbro

What was within an ace of being a serious tragedy was enacted at the lake one mile south of Zumbro last Friday afternoon when Jack Proctor went through the ice in mid lake into some fifteen foot deep icy water.

A party, composed of Alex McRae, W. Wright, F. Wright and Jack Proctor were out to get some ducks. This lake at Zumbro having a stretch of open water largely patronized by the ducks attracted the party. On arrival they were successful in shooting a few. Whilst retrieving the game with the aid of a long pole, the ice suddenly gave way under Jack, and he was thrown into the water.

His comrades got more poles and rushed to his assistance, and after a long struggle with ice breaking at the edge, Jack was brought to the surface of the firmer ice.

At the Zumbro section house, Jack was furnished with a change of raiment by the foreman. And after a short rest up the party returned home in good order, except for the loss of Jack's gun which still lays at the bottom of the lake.

Sir John intends, on his return to Estonia to urge his people to come to Canada in search of better homes and living conditions.

A Satisfied Harvester

"I have no complaints to make and am pleased to say that I have been able to find employment without any trouble whatsoever. If a man is willing to work there is absolutely no reason why he should not do so, so far as Canada and the west are concerned," writes C. R. Roberts of Dublin, Ireland, a British harvester who has returned to Winnipeg after spending some months in the harvest fields. Mr Robert's letter was in answer to some of the complaints voiced in the Old Country harvesters who told of finding little work or sympathy because of their inexperience.

If we were asked the question:—"On what can I spend this $2.00 bill that will give me the greatest value in comfort and emergency requirement?" We would say: "A Hot Water Bottle!" You remember what you said at some previous time, when some member of the family took a chill or a severe pain or probably only a toothache: "If I only had a Hot Water Bottle! I'll not get caught like this again!" $2.00 buys an excellent one at the Chauvin Pharmacy.

OUR SHORT STORY

The Man On Smoky Top

"Think you'll manage all right?" asked the old warden as he shook hands with young Maynard.

"Sure thing," replied the latter. "Good-bye and thanks," Shouldering his pack he turned away up the pine scented trail.

The old man looked after him doubtfully. During his long career as warden in this little corner of the Adirondacks many men of many types had he sent up that winding path to stay from May to October, but never before so well set-up, so well bred, so handsome a youth and one so obviously capable of holding down a far harder job than that of ranger on old Smoky Top.

Some time later, arriving at the summit, Sperry Maynard threw down his pack at the door of a small shanty set in a cleared space a few hundred feet square. Adjacent to it was a sort of platform on the top of four poles evidently a look-out. On one of the poles was fastened a telephone box, an incongruous object in the wilderness but necessary in the performance of his duties.

So this was to be his home for five months. Sperry sat down upon his duffle and gave himself up to eating the last of his sandwiches and reviewing the circumstance which had brought him here.

Briefly, it was ennui and disillusionment. With more money to spend than he had known what to do with and with generosity which had made him an easy victim of his associates, he had led a spectacular career at college. Then his father had died, increasing his already absurd income.

But he was riding for a fall from the quarter in which he least expected it. He believed his two best friends to be his room mate and the girl he was as good as engaged to. Coming to his rooms suddenly during the prom festivities he had surprised them in unequivocal love making, while ostensibly having tea.

Sperry had left the room, the campus, the town. In sudden revulsion he had hunted up an old friend of his father's and asked for a job, only stipulating that it be out of doors and away from the world.

As a result, here he was, the Smoky Top ranger, whose one duty was to sweep the horizon with high powered glasses and by means of the telephone, to report any fires to the fire wardens below.

As May melted into June and June into July, Sperry grew accustomed to his monotonous solitude. At times, however, intense longings for the pleasures and companionship of civilization seized him.

It was just after such a period that a gay party of men and women from the hotel on the lake below climbed to his shanty. First came a portly, middle-aged man, puffing considerably, then a younger man, followed by two ladies, two of whom were unmistakably past the bloom of youth. (Continued on Page Seven)

Here and There

Exports in Canada's inter-Empire trade last month exceeded imports by over $12,000,000. Against imports from 26 countries belonging to the British Empire, amounting to $15,713,000, Canada exported goods amounting to $27,885,000.

Noel Victor Fearnough, aged seven weeks, son of a farmer of Morrin, Alberta, the youngest child on record to travel alone, left pool, England, in charge of officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Steamship Lines throughout the trip.

An experiment in shipping Canadian peaches to England has proven successful. The peaches were packed in small boxes and placed in cold storage, reaching London in fine condition. There is likelihood of an increased demand for Canadian peaches.

Representative of the best sheep and swine blood of Great Britain, 33 animals imported from the Old Country arrived in Regina, Saskatchewan, recently. There were 19 sheep and 16 hogs in the shipment. The animals were bought by the government for farmers in the province.

Canada's highest lookout station has been completed and will be ready for use next year. It is situated on Mount Cartier, near Revelstoke, British Columbia, and is 8,623 feet above sea-level. It will be used for the detection of forest fires and for meteorological and other observances.

The Canadian McIntosh red apple is the champion dessert apple in the British Empire, so judges at the Imperial Fruit Show, which opened in Manchester recently, adjudged. They also decided that Cox orange pippins, from British Columbia, on the whole, are the best of the sixteen exhibits from overseas, and winners, therefore, of the "Daily Mail's" fifty-guinea cup.

What is declared to be a world's record for the transportation of grain has just been achieved by the Canadian Pacific Railway. In one period of 24 hours there were moved from Winnipeg for the head of the lakes 1,776 loaded cars. The best previous record, also held by the Canadian Pacific Railway, was 1,579 cars, moved east on October 25th, 1921.

One thousand young buffalo will be taken from the Dominion park at Wainwright, Alberta, and turned loose in the north in the region in which wood buffalo are found, Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, announces. This will prevent the slaughter of these animals made necessary by the increasing size of the Wainwright herd.

A dispatch from London says that the gold medal of the British Dairy Farmers' Association has been awarded to the Government of Ontario for its collection of dairy produce, including bacon, dead poultry and eggs, at the Dairy Show held there recently. First prize in the colonial farming section, namely the silver medal was won by the Ontario Beekeepers' Association of Guelph, and the bronze medal was awarded to H. Leclerc, of Montmagny, Quebec.

Details have just been announced concerning the "Aorangi," the new motor ship that is being built by the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand. The motorship is under construction at the Clyde yards of the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company and when completed will be the largest motorship in the world, having a displacement of 20,000 tons. On the Pacific she will exceed in size only by the "Empress of Canada" and the "Empress of Australia," of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which is her agent.

All grain shipment records for the prairie provinces have been shattered during the past two months. Since the commencement of the crop year, September 1st, loadings totalled 121,596 cars, representing 69,053,085 bushels, against 153,795,320 bushels handled in the same period last year. Of this quantity the Canadian Pacific loaded 68,469 cars, representing 100,307,085 bushels, against 94,071,320 bushels during the 1922 period.

...that everybody is more or less peripatetic. How is it with you? Do you believe in signs? Have you seen any? Rather! I make painting them."

"I dislike talking to her; she has such an habit of finishing one's sentences for one. You know the kind " "Yes, they listen faster than you can talk to them."

A certain schoolboy, who had regularly brought home excellent weekly reports at the beginning of last term, just as regularly returned with unsatisfactory reports towards the end.

"How is it that you are not doing so well?" asked his father, anxiously.

"It's teacher's fault," was the reply.

"He's moved the boy that sat next to me."

From Drowning

While crossing water 26 feet deep Dr. J. H. Proctor of Artland narrowly escaped death. The ice gave way, and Mr. Proctor was drawn through the hole made. If it had not been that ample assistance was at hand our friend would certainly have been drowned; as it was it took three people to get Mr. Proctor to safety. We are glad to say that Jack is none the worse for his thrilling experience.

Stanmore School also on December 21st are having a Xmas tree this year, and all are hoping for a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Natress family has been increased by the arrival of a son. Both doing well.

A noticeable feature of the St Andrews celebration at Artland was the persence of so many of our Alberta friends, needless to say, All Scotch.

The car shortage is getting serious, resulting in the elevators being chocked up.

Mineral Mixtures

And Meat Meals

For Bacon Hogs

EXPERIMENTAL FARMS NOTE

The availability of mineral matter for the proper nutrition of hogs is of vital importance and the normal demand for such in the development of frame and also in the functioning of the vital processes is strikingly apparent when such is lacking, more particularly with young growing pigs and brood sows.

The lack of an adequate calcium or phosphorus supply is not immediately aparent, but after a more or less will be manifested by a general debility and lack of tone in the animal and this followed by decreased production.

Of all classes of livestock hogs suffer more frequently because of their inability to utilize bulky roughages these roughages being a ruitful source from which to draw sufficient mineral constituents to maintain the body requirements. The cereal grains are low in calcium and unless this constituent is supplied from another source such a ration may be found unsatisfactory, if used exclusively. The addition of succulent feeds, such as roots, beet pulp, molasses, te and also leguminous roughages such as clover or alfalfa hay is necessary, because of the mineral content of these feeds, among other reasons, and such cannot be too strongly advocated for winter feeding and when pasture crops are not available milk by-products rank high as sources of mineral matter and are a valuable supplement to the grain ration.

Other sources of mineral matter such as bone meal, meat, meal, tankage, ground lifestone, rock phosphate, fish meal, charcoal, etc, are more expensive but valuable sources upon which to draw.

The exact amount of these last that should be supplied has not been definitely determined. With the object of obtaining some information on this matter, therefore, five lots of hogs totalling in all twenty head were fed on a ration composed of ground oats, 2 parts; ground barley, shorts and midlings, each 1 part; and oil meal 3 per cent, supplemented with skim-milk. Lot 1 was used as a check on the other four lots each of which was fed a mfneral meal in a self-feeder; Lot 2 being fed tankage; Lot 3, meat meal; Lot 4, fish meal; and Lot 5, meat and bone meal.

During the first period of 60 days on the above ration the hogs consumed, 5.53 per cent of tankage, 9.45 per cent of meat meal, 4.72 per cent of fish meal and 3.51 per cent of meat and bone feal and with the exception of the last lot made. .03 to .1 of a pound greater daily gains than the check lot. These results indicate the percent of these mineral meals which the hogs consumed when fed the above meal ration supplemented with skim-milk. They also indicate that the hogs which were fed these mineral feeds required somewhat less meal to produce a pound of gain in weight, the check lot requiring 2.29 lbs, the tankage lot 1.94 lbs, the meat meal lot requiring 1.79 lbs, the fish meal 1.96 lbs, and the beef and bone meal lot 1.83 lbs of meal to produce a pound of gain while the milk consumed was 5.38 pounds for the check lot and an avergae of 4.88 for the mineral-fed lots per pound of gain produced.

Wintering In Britain

Residents of all the western provinces were among a party of nearly 200 persons who left Winnipeg by Canadian National trains on November 21st to embark on the White Star liners "Regina" and "Antonia" at Montreal to spend their winter holidays in Great Britain.

Open-Door Immigration

Partial removal, at least, of the barriers against immigration to Canada is expected to result from the conference between federal and provincial officials in Ottaya during the week. Prospects are that Canada, during next summer will be called on to welcome a flood of immigration. the like of which has not been approached since the pre-war period.

Berry And Coe Nominated For Manitou Lake Reeve

the efforts to get the Government Grant spent where Council wanted, which came to nothing, the government sending their own men and getting the work done in the wrong place.. Authorization for proper expenditure in the right place came to late despite the Reeves efforts. The heavy cost of surveys during the year was explained. He mentioned the matter of a new safe or strong room. Hospitals, unfairness of Hospital payments, no provision in act for paying maintenance. Only Municipality paying is Tramping Lake for maternity cases only, other Municipalities paying nothing. We pay $2.00 per day for patients and have to pay for patients from other municipalities. He recommended that the new council be asked to go carefully into the matter. In reply to a question he explained in what way it was compulsory to support a union Hospital scheme.

Mr. Berry moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Chapfan for his long and faithful service to the Municipality as Reeve. Mr. Bradley explained that assess- and, J. W. Coe having added a few remarks Mr. Chapman feelingly replied, ment would be raised next year to equalize taxation generally.

Discussion took place on Hospital matters.

Elections by acclamation were:
A. Wells, Division 2.
H. Smith, Division 4.
W. M. Bradley, Division 6.
Nominations for Reeve:
W. L. Berry,
J. W. Coe.

COOL HEADEDNESS SAVES PROPERTP AND PERSONS

We are reminded again of the ever present danger of fire by the up- setting of a coal oil stove at the sale of work at Chauvin last Saturday afternoon.

Thanks to the promptude of sev- eral persons no damage was done; and thanks also to the cool-headed- ness of those in charge there was no panic or rush to the door with con- sequent injury to life and limbs.

NATURE PROVIDES FIRE FIGHTING MATERIAL

There is absolutely no excuse for the absence of fire protection in any building public or private, in Chauvin, where the fire fighting material is so liberally provided by nature and lies right at our very doorstep.

There is no better protection in the early stages of a fire than a bucket of dry sand thrown upon the out- break. If every occupant of a Chau- vin building was to go out and gather two buckets of clean dry sand we should have good protection.

Forget It

If you see a tall fellow ahead of a crowd.

A leader of men, marching fearless and proud.

And you know of a tale whose mere telling aloud

Would cause his proud head to in anguish be bowed.

It's a pretty good plan to forget it.

If you know of a skeleton hidden away

In a closet and guarded, and kept from the day

In the dark; and whose showing,

whose sudden display
Would cause grief and sorrow and lifelong dismay—

It's a pretty good plan to forget it.

Stand on your own feet: if you do not, some else will.

Guided by intelligence, a strong will is the greatest of blessings; the servant of stupidity, it is nothing but a curse.

The courage to take hold when all looks promising may be largely hope and enthusiasm. The holding on when the prospect has grown dark and the way is hard is something far braver and stronger.

It is the tragedy of our country that we all mean so well, and do so badly.

Funeral Service at La Pearl

(Contributed)

A funeral service for the late James Morrison, who died November 6 1923, was held in LaPearl church in Sunday November 25th. The service which was well attended was conducted by Rev. Mitchelson, who based his remarks on Rev. 14:13. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth, yea saith the Spirit that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them.

The preacher said in effect, "The ordinary person death is a terror. But to the Christian death has lost its terror. It releases him as absent from the body to be present with the Lord. The apostle Paul could ask 'O death where is thy sting? O grave where is thy victory?' He thanks God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. He also re- Paul's conversion."

The speaker touched on the outstanding characteristics of Mr. Morrison, finding him to be a Christian gentleman, sound in morals, discriminating right and wrong. As a business man, very industrious, and an example to younger men. A conscientious worshipper of his Saviour, not being carried about by the wind of doctrine or the sleight of men's craftiness. His faith was an anchor, of the soul, sure, steadfast and unmoveable.

James Morrison was born in Ireland in 1842, came to Shrewsbury, P.Q. in 1846. He remained a citizen of that province till 1909, when he came west. He had two sons and four daughters, one of whom, Mrs. Hugh Morrison died in 1920. The two sons Hugh and Henry, and three daughters, Mrs. J. McCluskey, Mrs. Ed. McCluskey and Mrs. D. Moncrieff, with many other relatives mourn his loss.

Altario Blacksmith Burned To Death

Jack Eyehouse, Blacksmith of Altario, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed his shack Saturday December 1st. It appears Eyehouse was using coal oil or gasoline to start a fire in the stove. An explosion followed with fatal result.

Constable Holtsbaum of the Altario made an investigation and decided no inquest was necessary.

Eyehouse was a single man, his parents living in the States.

The greatest curse is to be satisfied with one's own low ideals. There is no reason for being discouraged because we are discouraged, but the man should be discouraged who is not.

The car shortage was directly reflected on the streets and in the stores last Saturday afternoon. Money is moving very slowly and not much cash is available for buying winter supplies and Christmas luxuries.

The splendid weather of the past month has been very beneficial to live stock which are generally reported to be in fine shape. The coal bills have been considerably reduced and the only fly in the ointment is the lack of opportunity to haul during the fine weather owing to car shortage.

Good Times At The St Andrews Celebration At Artland: Friday

On Friday evening last the Artland School was packed with a crowd mostly Scotch, desirous of paying homage to St. Andrew, at the same hoping to swell the coffers of the Artland ladies sewing club, under whose auspices the entertainment was arranged. A capital program was carried out under the capable chairmanship of Mr. McDonald the editor of the Unity Courier and President of the Sask. Newspaper Association. To attempt to discriminate amongst the artistes would be a task, at least too great a one for the writer, as one and all did splendidly, and received generous recognition from the great gathering. Jeff Swan with his pipes, the Misses McSpornan with their Highland dances and songs, along with Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Merritt, and Mrs. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mrs. McSpornan, to say nothing of the readings and recitations by Mrs. Harry Scott and Miss Jensen.

After lunch had been handed round by the ladies, dancing was indulged in, and the music was up to the high standard that the district has set this year, and although there was an attempt to confine the dances to Scotch only, better councils prevailed and the remainder of the evening passed in perfect harmony, and the entertainment can take its place among the many successes attained by the district.

The quilt was won by an employee of the C.N.R. The balance sheet has not yet been made public, but it is certain that a handsome surplus was raised over expenses.

Manitou Lake Ladies Aid

One hears, with regret, of the resignation of the President of the Manitou Lake Ladies Aid (Mrs. R. E. Watson). Head of the Aid, since its inception Mrs. Watson has seen its rise to the position it occupies today. Storage Increased

Wheat handling facilities at the port of Vancouver have been increased to the extent of 50,000 bushels additional storage, starting next dispatch from that city.

Immigration Increase

An increase of approximately 100 per cent over the corresponding period of last year, is shown by immigration figures for the first time months of 1923, according to official figures issued from Ottawa. During the first nine months of this year 106,973 new entrants were brought to Canada and it is anticipated that of this number fully 100,000 will be permanent settlers.

The third brought up the rear and at first Sperry did not notice her. Then as he caught a glimpse of her beautiful face beneath the soft sport hat, he paled beneath his tan. But on the girl's part there was no trace of recognition.

"I say" said the elderly gentleman. "Do you have many fires?"

Sperry managed a reply. "Some times one a day. Sometimes not for a week."

"What would you do if you were surrounded here?" This question was from the elder woman. Perpetual asking of it from other tourists had given Sperry a ready answer. "Probably be killed," he said cheerfully. He always gave the proper touch of romance to his situation when they demanded.

"Oh" said the girl softly, her brown eyes wide with horror. Sperry could see now that resemblance to another, at first so striking, was really only intermittent as her expressions changed.

Long after their departure, Sperry thought of the visitors, particularly of the girl and the young man. Were they engaged, or possibly, married?

A week later they came again, with variations in the personnel of her party, but still the same couple. This time Sperry deliberately, yet unostentatiously, made conversation with her.

Just before they left the girl said suddenly, "I am coming up again." That was all, but the knowledge was a bright gleam in the dull monotony of his lonely days.

Many times she came and always with the personable youth, who seemed to have established himself as the girl's bodyguard. Little by little Sperry found that she was not married; that friends that she was not married; that her name was Barbara. And Sperry, who thought he was done with love at twenty-three, presently reached the stage where his first walking thought was "Will she come today?"

Then came the long dry spell of August. Sperry was kept busy reporting fires. The very air became yellow with smoke haze, and for days at a time the lake below was not visible.

One morning Sperry stopped in the act of cutting down a dead tree to sniff the air. Certainly the atmosphere was unusually acrid. A glance through the glasses reported nothing, yet Sperry had a feeling that the fire was not far away.

Running down the trail, he observed that the density of the smoke was increasing. Coming out on a little knoll, he saw an opaque cloud of smoke settled on an adjacent shoulder of the mountain. Here and there it was shot with flame.

His trained eye, however, saw that the wind was taking it away from the summit, and that it would probably burn itself out when it reached the edge of the cliff. Returning, he reported the fire to the warden.

Late that afternoon, Sperry sat smoking an old pipe. Suddenly he heard a rustle in the trail behind him. Turning he waited. Was it a deer or had someone been foolish enough to climb the mountain, menaced as it was by fire?

Thunderstruck, he gazed at the girl who stumbled toward him. Her wealth of hair tumbling about her shoulders her expression one of relief tinged with embarrassment. Barbara advanced, a most intriguing figure in boyish knickerbockers and gray flannel trousers. "I was riding" she explained, "and I saw the summit was all smoky and I wondered—" she broke off in confusion.

"You came up here to see if—if everything was all right?"

She nodded.

"Why that was—well, awfully good of you," said Sperry gratefully.

She turned to go. She was beginning to feel, as well as he, the unusualness of the situation. "I left my horse at the foot of the trail," she volunteered. "I am going home tomorrow."

His heart sank. "I am sorry to hear that. Your visits up here have meant—well, more than I could make you understand. I had gotten out of touch with the world, and came up here to forget many things."

"Was one of them my sister Evelyn?" she asked calmly.

Sperry turned in amazement. So that was where the resemblance came from. "How did you know?" he demanded.

"Oh, I always used to examine the pictures of good-looking men she kept on her dresser. And I picked up stray bits here and there which led me to think she hadn't used you quite right. But tell me, do you still think of her?" she asked wistfully. "You know she is married."

"Quite the contrary," said Sperry slowly. "The mountain winds have swept away her memory along with many other things. In their place they have brought me a wonderful dream."

When they rustle in the grass, I imagine it is the stir of her dress, and when they whisper in the pines I play I am listening to her dear voice. The man waited, telling her with his eyes what he did not dare to put into words.

Shyly Barbara put a slim young hand on his arm. "Years ago I fell in love with your picture, and when I saw you up here and recognized you for the first time, I knew you were much nicer than your photograph."

"Do you mean—Barbara?" and on the word his arm were about her.

A little later, when he had taken her down to her horse, he gave her the last kiss before the temporary separation. "I hoped to find myself on old Smoky Top," he whispered. "I little dreamed I would find you."

Sakers will meet competitive prices on all of their lines, including flour, groceries, fruit or toys. Why send your money out of the district.

What is harder than earning money? Collecting it.

"What cigarettes do you smoke?" "My husband's, of course!"

When is money damp?—When it is dew in the morning and mist at night.

STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX

Studebaker's vast resources are utilized to manufacture (not assemble) the Light-Six complete in the newest and most modern large automobile plants in the world.

Resources, consisting of $90,000,000 of actual net assets, together with $45,000,000 of plants, make it possible for Studebaker to offer you a six-cylinder car, at less than $1500, that is emphatically superior in design, construction and performance to any car within hundreds of dollars of its price.

By complete manufacture, Studebaker not only guards the quality of each part, but saves the middle-man's profits, with the result that no other make of car ever built, by anyone, at any price, represents so great a dollar-for-dollar value as the Light-Six.

Evidence of its mechanical superiority is found in its practical freedom from vibration. This is accomplished by the perfect engine balance secured through machining the Light-Six crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces. This requires 61 precision operations. No other car in Canada selling for less than $3,500 follows this practice.

It is significant, therefore, that the sale of 81,880 Studebaker cars during the first six months of this year broke all records. Buyers are justified in expecting more for their money in a Studebaker than in any other car.

Sale Of Work Makes Over $200; Workers Receive Good Support

The Oddfellows Hall, Chauvin presented an animated appearance last Saturday afternoon. This being the occasion of the sale of work and cooking held under the auspices of the Westminster Ladies Aid.

There was a hearty response by all to the efforts of these ladies, and as a result the profits are larger than those of last year by some sixty dollars. At the time of going to press, the final figures were not available, but over $220 it is expected will go to meet the needed funds.

The stalls were loaded with a choice selection of plain and fancy needlework, whilst tables were laid out in charming manner for serving refreshments and suppers. The children found lots of fun in the lucky dips, and also had a good display of pretty things on the children's stall.

Will those who took away sealers and pie plates, please return when empty to Forryan's Store, where the owners can obtain them.

Notes From Edgerton

The annual meeting of shareholders of Edgerton and Battle River Tele-phone Co. will be held in Bloomington school on January 3rd 1924.

What has happened to our "Pelican" who came upon the scene with such a flourish? It cannot be Latin?

Will the Chauvin mill kindly state if we can take wheat for flour. A lot would make the trip if it can be done in one day.

Some elevators seem to have made up their minds to take in nothing but grade 3 while the car shortage lasts. It would be interesting to see their returns.

But if it wasn't for these terrible winters!

Who was the first man on his homestead south of the river. The writer gives his advent as Oct. 1905. to encourage those who can beat it.

What shall we prohibit next? How would it be if the unco-quid got busy and made it illegal for a farmer to work for nix.

Death And Funeral Of Mrs. Olandro Rockey

A dark cloud of sorrow hangs over Prospect Valley, owing to the Death of Mrs. O. Rockey, which took place at the Alexandra hospital Edmonton on Sunday November 25th. at 1 30 p.m. Mrs. Rockie had been ill for some months before going to the hos-pital, where she underwent two op-erations which were unsuccessful.

The remains were brought to the home of her son Mr. Wilson Rockey, at Prospect Valley. The funeral service which took place on Novem-ber 28th was attended by a large num-ber of friends and relatives who as-sembled to pay their last tribute of respect to one who had always been ready to minister to the sick, on mat-ter at what hour she was needed..

Mr. Mitchelson, the minister con-ducted the service and chose for his text, the 13 verse of the 12th Chap-ter of Daniel "For thou shalt rest and stand in thy lot at the end of thy days. The preacher said in ef-fect. The triumphs of our labors are purchased on the Cross. Death may rob us of our worldly posses-sions. Honor or fame. One thing it could not do—rob us of our inheri-tance with the saints in light. We who love Christ can say. Oh, death where is thy sting. Oh, grave where is thy victory.

Mrs. Rockey was indeed a daugh-ter of Israel. In her younger days Her place will be difficult to fill for she laid herself on the altar of sac-rifice. She passed through many a rugged road and mountain pass of suffering.

Mrs. Rockie was born at Aylmer Ont. 63 years ago. She came West with her husband in 1907. She leaves besides her husband, her son, Mr. Wilson Rockey and his wife and family, Her brother, Mr. Darling and Basil Murray to mourn her loss.

Thanks are due to the following gentlemen who conveyed the mourn-ers to the grave in Edgerton ceme-tery, where a short service was held. Pound, Byers and Straus. The pall-bearers were Messrs Lasells, Tizzard, Spencer, Leggett, Byers and Heffren.

Many friends sent beautiful floral tributes.
